

"Wil Hernandez has given us a significant piece of writing that enlarges our understanding of how Nouwen carried out his ministry of spiritual transformation in the lives of others."

As author of "Henri Nouwen A Spirituality of Imperfection" Wil Hernandez shows how Nouwen's integrative pursuit of the spiritual life and its formation is both fueled and tempered by his own experience of imperfection.

7:00pm Friday, January 9
to 1:30pm Sunday, January 11

Check-in starting at 3 pm.
A light dinner will be served at 6 pm.
The presentation will start at 7pm.

Utilizing Henri Nouwen's schema of the inward, outward and upward thrust of the spiritual life, this retreat/workshop highlights the intriguing nature and reality of our journey in an integrated fashion. Such journey we all embark upon is ultimately a unified movement toward love, engaging the self, others, and God. Together we will explore more deeply its dynamic shape through lectures, interactive dialogue, small group discussion, and community reflection.

Wil Hernandez, Ph.D. regularly teaches a course on the spirituality of Henri Nouwen at Fuller Theological Seminary and at the Center for Religion and Spirituality at Loyola Marymount University.
